

Amy Carroll is an international speaker who delights in seeing the image of God in people worldwide. As an avid reader, she feels a pleasant shock when she sees one of her books on a bookshelf. She's the author of Esther, Exhale, Breaking Up with Perfect, and several workbooks that help women to grow spiritually and to tell their own God-given stories.

Amy resides in North Carolina with her husband Barry who she has been madly in love with over 30 years. They have two sons—Anson and Nolan—and a lovely daughter-in-law, Madison. Becoming a grandmother some day is one of her fervent prayers!

You can find her on any given day reading a book, creating at her computer, texting her adult kids, or trying to figure out one more alternative to cooking dinner.